About Rise Line

Rise Line Business Credit provides customized senior debt solutions to lower middle-market companies across North America. We have created a platform that brings broad industry expertise and structuring ability to small and midsize businesses seeking an alternative to traditional lenders.

We structure tailored financing solutions with revolving lines of credit and a variety of term loans that address our clients' long term capital goals.

We serve clients across a range of industries, including manufacturing, distribution, retail and consumer products, automotive, energy, food & beverage, business services and tech-enabled services.
